N.M. 31 Closing in Eddy County for Railroad Crossing Work

The New Mexico Department of Transportation will assist Southwest Railroad with railroad crossing replacement work on N.M. 31, near Loving beginning Tuesday, August 13. The work will consist of the replacement of the railroad crossing and repave the asphalt approaches.

N.M. 31 will be closed at various locations along the route from August 13 to August 20, then again August 26 to August 28. Traffic will be detoured to alternate routes.

Additional railroad crossing work was completed on N.M. 2 near Lake Arthur earlier this month. These projects are included within NMDOT's railroad grade-crossing safety program, which repairs, upgrades or removes crossings each year.
