

Unique Truck Accessory for Year 2000

(PRWEB) November 8, 1999 -- The Working Mat is a new cargo/bed mat for all pickup truck beds and the sport utility cargo area. It provides a reliable, simple and quick solution for keeping smaller cargo from rolling or sliding around during transit. It is also applicable for vans and car trunks.

The usual bedliner or mat accessory is a protective device that lies passively on the bed surface. But the new Working Mat actually works for you and therefore the name.

The universal, heavy-duty Working Mat is designed with a series of patented lift-up panels to hold cargo securely in place. This is done simply and quickly by placing smaller cargo (groceries, tools, camping equipment, etc.) next to a lifted panel. The lift-up panels provide a convenient lift-up barrier between the cargo and any open space in the cargo bed, preventing cargo from rolling or sliding. It is not necessary to tie or bungee and there is nothing to install or assemble!

When not holding cargo, the lift-up panels lie flat and out of the way of your larger cargo, providing excellent surface cushioning and bed protection. Use the Working Mat just by itself or to complement a bedliner or other mat.

The Working Mat is rectangular for universal use between wheel wells. The mat's premium quality material is about 1/2" thick, black nylon-reinforced rubber with a non-skid surface. This rubber material does not crack, rip or tear in cold or hot weather.
