

Reality TV Star Joins Illusionist, Gives Cash to Parked Cars This Holiday Season

Gady Medrano, from A&E's "Flipping Vegas", pulls off "Secret Santa Gift-Wrapping Car Prank" with friend, Magician/Comedian Rob Anderson.

Las Vegas, NV (PRWEB) December 23, 2015 -- Illusionist Rob Anderson and friends have been spotted spreading holiday cheer by taking to the streets of Las Vegas with a "Secret Santa Gift-Wrapping Car Prank". Known for his street stunts and viral YouTube videos, with over 14 million views, Anderson, joined by a merry group including Gady Medrano, the popular realty-reality TV star from A&E's hit show "Flipping Vegas", decided to share the joy of the season in a unique way. They scoured parking lots all over Las Vegas, searching for cars in need of tender loving care, whose owners could use a little holiday spirit too, and successfully pulled off this Christmas themed prank.

Gift-wrapping selected parked cars while their owners shopped nearby, this festive crew left envelopes filled with cash taped to windshields that read "Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays! -Secret Santa". As surprised car owners unwrapped their vehicles, the generous money-filled envelopes moved recipients to tears and smiles of gratitude.

Dubbed "The Magical Humanitarian" by Huffington Post in recognition for videos that showcase magic to help homeless veterans, Anderson promotes a giving spirit, year 'round. His magic has been featured on SyFy's "Wizard Wars", Comedy Central, MSN, "Inside Edition", and more. Anderson's videos continue to trend on social media, as his efforts to give back promote the use of magic and comedy, conveying feelings of hope and happiness. Friend and reality star Gady Medrano, refers to Anderson as a great guy who is always willing to help out, "Rob uses his magic to inspire and assist those in need. It is always an honor to volunteer my time in support of Rob and his charitable efforts."
