

Alignment Center and Alaska Car and Truck's New Website

Alignment Center and Alaska Car and Truck announces their new customer friendly website.

Anchorage, AK (PRWEB) January 12, 2016 -- Alignment Center and Alaska Car and Truck, of Anchorage, AK, is proud to announce the debut of their new website. The new website boasts a clean, streamlined look and design, with easy access to auto repair and maintenance information.

A page devoted to Service Videos explains auto repair issues in clear detail for drivers, and a tab is available for drivers to get a price quote on repair or services, according to vehicle year/make/model. The new site will also feature a database where Alignment Center and Alaska Car and Truck can keep maintenance and service records for customers' vehicles.

For tire purchases, customers can easily access the store's inventory and narrow down their choices a variety of ways, including by vehicle make/model and tire size. A blog helps pass on information of interest to customers, informing and educating them on tire and service information. Their new website also makes it easy to schedule an appointment, with spaces for contact information, vehicle info, services needed and options for appointment times.

Alignment Center and Alaska Car & Truck has been serving drivers in the Anchorage, AK area since 1977, with premium-brand tires and auto repair and maintenance services such as oil changes, brake repair, wheel alignments, brake service, driveline repair and much more. Alignment Center and Alaska Car & Truck has built their reputation on excellence in auto repair, all with conscientious, attentive customer service and a friendly, welcoming attitude.
