

Online Travel Database For Motorcyclists

(PRWEB) September 24, 2000 -- NC Motorcyclists has added a new interactive database to its website that will allow motorcyclists to post and view information regarding future rides/trips. Our intent is to enable individuals or small groups to join others who have a similar destination.

Although we all like to ride alone now and then, most of us would prefer to have company on the longer hauls. In addition to the safety aspect, there is the camaraderie and fellowship that develops after several days/weeks of riding together.

A rider simply enters their departure date, departure zip code, and appropriate trip information including whom to contact. The database will then list all of the information sorted by departure date and zip code.
