

BakBurner.com Presents Auto Insurance Relife Along With Other Features

(PRWEB) September 24, 2000 -- BakBurner.com was started 1 month ago in order for residents in New Jersey to help save on auto insurance.

The goals were simple, just let people see who is the brightest of the bunch and let people see how others fared with that company.

It didnt take long for BakBurner to expand soon after that.

Currently the web site is host to a New Jersey Guides (<http://guides.bakburner.com>) section that hosts shopping, dining, entertainment and lots more.

Also in their New Jersey Guides section you can find tickets to events and talk about things in the chat rooms or message boards.

Other features the site displays is storage space (<http://space.bakburner.com>) for photos, documents and other such information. With the web site already saving thousands on insurance for residents it is also saving computer space for them as well.

With many items planned for the future such as free email, a section for best auto parts and more pricings and classifieds, this site is sure to grow in the future.
