San Jose, CA (PRWEB) January 01, 2014 -- Insurance for vehicles at the state level provides a standard protection policy for most drivers. The Auto Pros company has modified its automobile insurance rate quotes to online to include more state level pricing for drivers at <http://autoprosusa.com/insurance>.

This state locator tool is currently programmed to present policies to drivers that are affordable and offer the approximate coverage required that meets state legislation for insurance. Drivers who use this tool online can begin researching providers by state based on the origin zip code that each driver is asked to provide.

State vehicle insurance policies that are quoted through the Auto Pros system are prepared direct by insurers licensed in individual and multiple states. Each quote that is generated using the lookup tool online includes the 2014 price information that drivers can use to compare different agency pricing.

"The state minimum policies that are available for quotation through the lookup tool online provides more insight to drivers into the pricing process for basic levels of vehicle protection policies," said a source from the Auto Pros company.

The state insurance policies that are quotable online include additional policies that insurers underwrite for U.S. drivers. The minimum protection that some companies provide can be expanded with full coverage or plans that cover high risk motor vehicle owners. State provider quotes are now provided for these policies.

"Drivers who utilize the tools that we're offering to the public online can take advantage of the anonymity provided to research insurance prices privately," the source confirmed.

The Auto Pros company research system for insurers online is one portion of the 2014 improvements that are now featured for vehicle owners. Drivers seeking ways to improve vehicle protection with a warranty plan can currently use the locator found at <http://autoprosusa.com/auto-warranty> to perform a national search.

This optional system for researching different warranties companies is combined with the features of the insurance finder to present new resources for vehicle protection to car owners in the U.S.
