Miami, FL (PRWEB) February 16, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, announces Belt Pro, an automobile invention that offers a hygienic option when using public transportation.

"The Automobile Interior Manufacturing is worth $28 billion," says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. "In the next five years, this industry will become even more globalized due to expansion in developing economies. The strong dollar will also fuel more sales."

A seat belt is found in every vehicle, whether it be for land, water or air," says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. "Seat belts are often used to prevent injuries in cases of accidents but what it does not do is protect people against health-related issues such as diseases. The Belt Pro is an automobile invention that adds protection against potential health hazards caused by bacteria found on seat belts."

The Belt Pro is an automobile invention that protects people from diseases caused by bacteria and germs that lie on the surface of seat belts. Public transportation vehicles such as taxi cabs, buses, and air planes are designed with seat belts as a regular safety feature. Unfortunately, cleaning these devices is often neglected, thus potentially accumulating harmful bacteria. This invention is designed to be easily slipped over a seat belt and kept secured to prevent seat belts from getting into direct contact with a person's skin or clothing.

"The Belt Pro will definitely become an essential when it comes to travelling," says inventor Ayenew M. "This automobile invention is designed with soft and compact material which allows it to easily fit into any bag or pocket. By using this device, commuters will protect themselves from coming into contact with potentially hazardous bacteria."

Harold Finnigan, an office worker and daily commuter from Manhattan, NY, has this to say about the Belt Pro: "I use taxis on a daily basis; and because of this I come into contact with various forms of bacteria just by putting on my seatbelt. I am now able to lessen the chances of this happening thanks to the Belt Pro."

The Belt Pro is an automobile invention that will provide added safety features when using seat belts in public transportation vehicles.
