

World Patent Marketing Invention Team Comes Up With The Ultimate Car Cover, A New Automobile Invention That Serves As A Portable Garage!

World Patent Marketing Reviews A New Automobile Invention. Will Car Cover Be the Next World Patent Marketing Low Cost Success Story?

Miami, FL (PRWEB) February 22, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, announces Car Cover, an automobile invention that provides a portable garage to the car and protects it from the weather.

"The Global Auto Parts and Accessories Manufacturing Industry makes $2 trillion annually," says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. "The industry is projected to rise and improve to pre-recession levels. Parts and accessories will continue to enjoy a brisk demand due to an increase in disposable income."

"Owning a car is one of the best investments people can make," says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. "They provide a lot of comfort and benefits which is why people try to take care of their vehicles as much as they can to make them last longer. In the city, finding a decent parking spot that can protect one's vehicle against the elements is nigh impossible. Fortunately, the Car Cover provides a revolutionary way to do this. It is an automobile invention that protects the vehicle from the harsh elements such as intense sunlight or extreme rain or snow."

There are plenty of vehicle covers out in the market but the Car Cover is a step above the rest as it doesn't require the user to manually cover the car. This automobile invention features a remote control which can automatically extend and retract the cover. When not in use, it is light and compact to store. It has magnets to keep it in place to prevent it from being blown away no matter how strong the winds are.

"The resale value of vehicles largely depends on its condition," says inventor Miguel A. "Simply put, vehicles that look old with chipped paint will sell a lot less than vehicles that are still shiny and intact. The Car Cover is an automobile invention that not only extends the lifespan of a vehicle but even increases the car's resale value. As it is less damaged by the elements, its value won't drop too much as it experiences significantly less wear and tear."

Kristina Lacy, a car sales agent and blogger from Webster Springs, WV, has this to say about the Car Cover: "Vehicle's parked outdoors are exposed more to the elements. Unfortunately, covered parking lots are just as expensive as cars when it comes to the city. People who live in the buy and sell of vehicles need to find a way to keep cars looking brand new while still being able to easily show it to prospective buyers. The Car Cover is a simple automobile invention that goes a long way in protecting one's merchandise. It is a lot easier to use as compared to traditional covers as it is automated. This saves up a lot of time and hassle especially when dealing with numerous cars in the outdoor garage/showroom."

Cars have revolutionized the way people travel and carry goods from one place to another. The Car Cover is an improvement over the old design and makes it more functional and easier to use. With this automobile invention, people will be able to park their cars and not worry about it. It's like carrying an indoor parking spot that unfolds with a press of a button.
