

MotorVac Adds Matco as a New Distributor

MotorVac Technologies, Inc. has announced that Matco Tools Inc. will now distribute its products in the US through its network of tool dealers.

(PRWEB) January 12, 2002 -- MotorVac Technologies, Inc. has announced that Matco Tools Inc. will now distribute its products, along with other select tool dealers and automotive equipment suppliers. Matco will greatly expand MotorVac's dealer network and will provide end-user customers with much more convenience to purchase MotorVac equipment, detergents and service kits.

MotorVac is a leader in the design, manufacturing and marketing of professional fluid system maintenance and diagnostic equipment. Its products are primarily focused on the automotive repair industry, including heavy-duty fleet and industrial applications.

MotorVac's product line includes the renowned CarbonClean fuel cleaning system, TransTech automatic transmission fluid exchanger, CoolantClean exchange and flush system, OilClean, a new dynamic oil system cleaning and exchange service and the LeakChek Plus and EVAP LeakChek, both time saving leak detection devices utilizing vapor trace technology. The EVAP LeakChek just received Motor Magazines Top 20 Tool Award for 2001 at AAPEX.

Independent studies have shown that the use of MotorVac's CarbonClean system can reduce fuel consumption, control emissions and improve overall driving performance. Also, the company's proprietary detergents are non-carcinogenic and environmentally friendly. Beyond the performance of the equipment, MotorVac products provide many value-added benefits that will enhance a shop's revenue and profit potential, while increasing customer satisfaction.

Lee Melody, President and CEO, stated, "I am very excited to partner with Matco and believe that they will increase the awareness of our equipment, build each product category and greatly expand our distribution in the US marketplace. MotorVac is headquartered in Santa Ana, CA, and distributes its products throughout the world.

MotorVac Technologies, Inc., designs, develops, assembles and markets unique technological solutions for the service and repair of automotive and truck systems. Product lines include Diesel Engine Service Equipment, specialty chemicals and shop equipment for servicing fuel (CarbonClean), coolant (CoolantClean) and transmission systems (TRANSTECH). The company also has a line of leak detectors. MotorVac's products are distributed to service shops, fleets and government agencies in more than 70 countries worldwide.
