

Bureau of Automotive Repair Citation Milestone Announced by Automotive Defense Specialists on its Blog

Automotive Defense Specialists is a top California law firm specializing in Bureau of Automotive Repair defense cases. The firm maintains a lively blog for lay people on issues surrounding the regulatory environment in the California automotive repair industry.

San Francisco, CA (PRWEB) March 28, 2016 -- Automotive Defense Specialists, a California law firm of attorneys defending against Bureau of Automotive Repair actions, is proud to announce an important milestone on its blog: five blog posts specifically addressing the issue of Bureau of Automotive Repair citations. As the Bureau of Automotive Repair, or "BAR" as it is known in the industry, issues regulatory actions against station owners and/or technicians, a growing number receive official correspondence, which they may find confusing. Many owners turn first to the Internet upon receipt of correspondence from the BAR, including what is called a 'citation.'

“California's SMOG check system has grown more intensely complicated each year, especially the STAR program,” explained attorney William Ferreira of Automotive Defense Specialists. “By publishing specific posts on specific issues such as citations from the Bureau of Automotive Repair we are eager to help educate the lay person. Interested parties are advised, of course, to reach out to an attorney for assistance as a blog post is no substitute for professional counsel if they have receive a citation from the BAR.”

The blog posts have been conveniently organized via a WordPress 'tag' at <http://automotivedefense.com/tag/bureau-of-automotive-repair-citation/>. There, the interested reader can find all five of the major posts on the topic of a citation by the Bureau of Automotive Repair.

Sample Post Summary: Two Examples
