Norcross, Ga (PRWEB) April 05, 2016 -- Mighty Distributing System of America, a leader in automotive aftermarket products and services, announces the recent addition of executive Josh D'Agostino to promote franchise system growth, further expand Mighty's presence in international markets and explore merger and acquisition opportunities. As the new Vice President of Business Development, Josh brings extensive experience in implementing highly successful strategies that drive growth.

“We are pleased to add an executive with Josh’s experience and background to the team at Mighty,” said Ken Voelker, President and CEO. “This newly created position of Vice President, Business Development, exemplifies our commitment to long term growth.”

In his new role at Mighty, D’Agostino will serve on the executive management team and be responsible for growing company operations, franchise development and support, international expansion and competitive acquisitions.

“I’m thrilled to have this unique opportunity with Mighty Auto Parts to help lead our franchisee and company growth overall,” said D’Agostino. “Mighty has a tremendous history, and I’m looking forward to contributing to its continued success.”

Before joining Mighty, Mr. D’Agostino spent approximately nine years with Genuine Parts Company/NAPA Auto Parts in new business development where he helped expand the business opportunity of NAPA store ownership to new owners, existing owners and competitive brands. He was heavily involved in sourcing, negotiating, qualifying and closing acquisitions of competitive auto parts companies.
