

LA Traffic Lawyer, Mr. Ticket, Comments On the Newly Implemented Traffic Ticket Payment System in Los Angeles

LASC has implemented a new program for paying traffic tickets in Los Angeles. Mr. Ticket comments on the effectiveness of this program.

Los Angeles, CA (PRWEB) June 03, 2016 -- According to a press release by Los Angeles Superior Court, LASC has implemented a new program that allows drivers to pay for many of their traffic infractions at their convenience through the use of special kiosks placed throughout the area. While this may result in easier payment options for some drivers, renowned traffic ticket attorney, Mr. Ticket, believes drivers should consider fighting tickets before paying the fines.

In a news release by their public information office, Los Angeles Superior Court announced a new program to give drivers with citations more options when it comes to paying fines. Special payment kiosks are now located outside in five spots throughout the area to make it easier for drivers to pay for their violations at their convenience, even outside of the normal business hours of the courthouse. According to the news release, "Kiosk services are available seven days a week. Cash, credit and debit cards, personal checks, and money orders are accepted. A third-party vendor fee is charged per transaction." So rather than finding a street racing lawyer in Los Angeles for example, drivers can just pay the fine and not have to worry about it anymore.

"Paying fines in this manner rather than hiring an infraction defense lawyer may be more convenient and save drivers a lot of time going to court. However, drivers should be warned that convenience is not always the best option. Paying the fine is admitting to guilt and may result in points being added to your driver's license", said Mr. Soleimanian.

An experienced criminal defense lawyer in Los Angeles that handles traffic violations may be able to help you with a defense that can get any penalties you face, such as heavy fines and jail time, reduced.

Mr. Ticket is available to assist drivers who are seeking a misdemeanor defense lawyer or an attorney with skill in handling all types of traffic-related offenses. Mr. Ticket has a proven track record of success.
