

World Patent Marketing Invention Team Offers An Alternative To Long, Tiring Drives With Its New Automobile Invention, All Clutch Sequential

World Patent Marketing Reviews A New Automobile Invention. Will All Clutch Sequential Be the Next World Patent Marketing Low Cost Success Story?

Miami, FL (PRWEB) June 01, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, announces the All Clutch Sequential, an automobile invention that answers the need for a purely automatic sequential shift system that is easy and efficient to use.

"The Automobile Transmission Manufacturing market is worth $41 billion," says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. "Rising discretionary income coupled with greater financing opportunities have driven consumers to purchase new vehicles. In turn, this has shifted demand for transmissions into high gear."

"Modern society relies on land-based vehicles as a primary means of transportation," says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. "All Clutch Sequential is an automobile invention that improves how people use automotive vehicles and makes the driving experience a lot smoother, better, and hassle-free."

All Clutch Sequential is a gear system that has a separate clutch for each gear. This allows for the vehicle to shift to a specific gear at any time. When installed on a manual transmission system, it eliminates the need to manually step on the clutch and follow the sequential order. For automatic transmission systems, this automobile invention improves the transmission of power and usage of fuel since these systems rely on a fluid system to transmit power and often have transmission delays.

"The old sequential transmission system—whether manual or automatic—has drawbacks when it comes to either efficiency in power transmission or the hassle needed to use it," says inventor Nentor M. "The All Clutch Sequential addresses these problems to make the driving experience a lot easier and enjoyable. This has a direct effect on road congestion and traffic as vehicles move much better which lessens the burden on the traffic system."

Chris Lisle, an mechanic and blogger from Chillicothe, OH has this to say about the All Clutch Essential: "When it comes to drivers, there is a big divide between manual and automatic transmission users. Manual transmission can accelerate and decelerate faster but is a lot harder to use. The automatic system, on the other hand, is less stressful but is slower to accelerate and is lacking in the power efficiency department. All Clutch Essential has the best of both worlds and none of the disadvantages. This is essentially what drivers have been looking for as it gives ease of shifting gears while being powerful and efficient as well."

All Clutch Essential changes the way how people use and interact with their vehicles. With this, people can drive for longer periods without tiring themselves out while being efficient with their fuel.
