New York, NY (PRWEB) June 06, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, announces the MagMoto Unleashed, a technological invention that provides an improved music listening experience for motorcycle drivers.

"The Motorcycle, Bike & Parts Manufacturing is a $6 billion industry, says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. "The market has shifted from baby boomers to the younger generation. The future is looking up for this industry."

"Driving a motorcycle is a preferred means of transportation by many, particularly those who live in the city," says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. "However, there are many limitations when it comes to entertainment features when driving this type of vehicle. MagMoto Unleashed is a technological invention which improves the entertainment experience of a motorcycle driver without any major alterations to the vehicle."

MagMoto Unleashed is a technological invention that provides entertainment functions for motorcycle drivers. Motorcycles are naturally compact and do not contain any entertainment devices such as a radio or music player. This invention is a portable device made with waterproof material in order to withstand prolonged outdoor exposure. Motorcycles usually do not come with any built-in music source. MagMoto Unleashed has built-in speakers which allow motorists to listen to their favorite tunes without having to wear earphones. Since it no longer requires the use of earphones, it enables motorists to still keep an ear out for safety purposes.

"MagMoto Unleashed will definitely provide motorcycle riders with some form of relaxing entertainment while on the road," says inventor Richard P. "This technological invention will be appreciated by motorcycle riders because it provides them with a safe alternative to listening to music while on the road. No earphones are needed, thus maintaining their awareness at all times."

Jerry McCormick, a motorcycle enthusiast and travel blogger from Houston, Texas, has this to say about MagMoto Unleashed: "Being alone on the road can be quite boring. MagMoto Unleashed is a technological invention which provides a source of entertainment by allowing riders like me to listen to some tunes while enjoying the cool breeze."

MagMoto Unleashed is an amazing technological invention that every motorcycle rider will appreciate. With its music features and other added functions, it will seem like having a personalized entertainment system on hand without having to alter the vehicle.
