

AssetWorks Introduces an Electronic Logging Device (ELD) Mandate Resource Center

AssetWorks, a leading provider of fleet management software, announced today that it has created an Electronic Logging Device (ELD) Mandate Resource Center for up-to-date information regarding the FMCSA's ELD Mandate.

Calgary, AB (PRWEB) July 05, 2016 -- AssetWorks, a leading provider of fleet management software, announced today that it has created an Electronic Logging Device (ELD) Mandate Resource Center for up-to-date information regarding the FMCSA's ELD Mandate.

“The FMCSA’s legislation can be complex, and there is a great deal of information to read through. We have created various types of content to help simplify the ELD Mandate,” says Mike Koebel, Sales Director - Field Service Solutions division at AssetWorks. “Our resource center contains an infographic, a quick guide, and even an ELD Mandate quiz for fleet professionals to find the answers to electronic logging device questions.”

To access the resource center, visit: <http://www.assetworks.com/fss/eld-mandate>

The resource center helps our customers make an educated decision on ELDs and how to leverage their ELD investment. Combining onboard mobile computing ELD technology and modular cloud-based software, AssetWorks' Field Service Solution complies with both US and Canadian HOS regulations, eliminating the need for paper logs, and simplifying compliance reporting for both inspections and audits.

In addition to electronic driver logs, AssetWorks Field Service Solution provides customers with a single platform for electronic Driver Vehicle Inspection (eDVIR), field ticketing, dispatch, IFTA data collection, driver behavior score carding, lone worker monitoring and asset/trailer tracking.
