World Patent Marketing Reviews A New App Invention. Will E-Car Trip Planner Be the Next World Patent Marketing Low Cost Success Story?

Miami, FL (PRWEB) July 04, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, announces the E-Car Trip Planner, an application invention designed to provide the best travel routes while on the road.

"The Automated Guided Vehicle Manufacturing industry makes $199 million a year," says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. "Industry revenue is projected to climb at an annualized rate of 8.3%."

"One of the most concerning issues while on the road is to have to deal with daily traffic," says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. "From vehicular accidents to road blocks due to road-related construction, this can cause people to get really stressed out while being stuck in traffic. The E-Car Trip Planner is an application invention that allows people to create the most efficient routes and avoid all the causes of traffic."

The E-Car Trip Planner is an application invention designed to provide an efficient route planning method for motorists. It allows users to plan out their routes by being able to combining location with other important data such as real-time traffic. While many electronic devices such as GPS system merely provide multiple route options, this invention goes one step further and takes in other essential factors which results in the most efficient travel route. What is amazing about E-Car Trip Planner is that it is capable of being implemented with the use of various popular mobile devices and will function with the use of wireless connectivity.

"The E-Car Trip Planner will definitely provide a whole lot of help to motorists," says inventor Reginald P. "This application invention is specially designed not only prevents users from getting lost while travelling from one location to another, it helps them avoid any congested roads and other traffic-causing incidents."

Mark Wallace, a personal driver from Los Angeles, California, has this to say about the E-Car Trip Planner: "My clients are very high maintenance when it comes to getting to their meetings on time. That is why I rely on the E-Car Trip Planner to help me plan the most efficient routes without getting lost and most particularly, without getting stuck in terrible L.A. traffic."

The E-Car Trip Planner is an application invention that will provide the most efficient and convenient way of planning routes anywhere. With this device, one is now able to get to their desired destination without experiencing the stress caused by traffic and getting lost.
