

Endurance Named Finalist for 2016 Stevie Awards for Great Employers

Endurance, the nation's premier provider of extended vehicle protection – commonly referred to as an extended car warranty, was recently named a finalist for the 2016 Stevie Awards for Great Employers.

Chicago, IL (PRWEB) September 07, 2016 -- Endurance Vehicle Protection has been named a finalist for the 2016 Stevie® Awards for Great Employers, an international competition for the best and brightest companies. The awards recognize the world's best employers and the human resources professionals, teams, achievements and HR-related products and suppliers who help to create and drive great places to work.

This nomination comes after Endurance was named one of the Top Workplaces in Chicago by the Chicago Tribune last year and Chicago Business Insider named Endurance one of the best places to work in Chicago the year prior.

More than 250 nominations from organizations across the globe were evaluated in this year's competition and the winners were determined by the average score of more than 50 professionals worldwide, acting as judges for this competition. The Stevie Awards for Great Employers recognize achievement in many facets of the workplace.

“Endurance is very excited to be named a finalist for the Stevie Awards for Great Employers” noted Paul Chernawsky, President of Endurance. “Endurance has always believed in giving employees a work environment that fosters growth and supports their creative talents.”

Stevie Award winners in the 34 Employer of the Year categories were determined by a unique blending of the ratings of professionals and the votes of the general public. More than 44,000 votes were cast by members of the public for their favorite employer.
