TI AUTOMOTIVE NAMES PRESIDENT FOR JAPANESE OPERATIONS

WARREN, Mich. — TI Automotive has named Shigeki Miyajima president of TI Automotive, Japan.

Miyajima will be responsible for directing TI Automotive's growing business in the Japanese market. Based in Yokohama, he will report to Clive Kellett, business strategy director for Europe and Asia Pacific.

Miyajima joined TI Automotive in April 2002, after serving as a consultant for the company's Asia Pacific business. He was previously president of TRW Steering Systems' subsidiary in Japan. Before joining TRW, he was a member of the board of directors of Ikeda Bussan Co., a major manufacturer of automobile seat and interior trim parts.

Earlier, he served in key executive positions at Nissan, including general manager of the company's overseas design department, director of its design and development division, and manager of the product strategy and planning office.

Miyajima holds a bachelors of science degree in mechanical engineering and a masters degree in international marketing. He is married and has three children.

TI Automotive is the world's leading supplier of fluid storage, transfer and delivery systems including brake, fuel and air conditioning applications. Based in Warren, MI, the company employs over 21,000 people at more than 130 facilities in 29 countries on six continents. Further information about TI Automotive is available on the company's website at www.tiautomotive.com.
