GixxerGirl has made their way into the streetbike seen...

(PRWEB) October 6, 2003 -- The rapidly increasing popularity amongst woman motorcycle riders leads to a growing desire for new and stylish products. GixxerGirl has made their way into the streetbike seen to take HIM for a ride. Launching their e-commerce site in May 2003 with an overwhelming response marketed their way to the top of the search engines in a few short weeks. Focusing on developing new products designed with the female streetbike rider in mind, GixxerGirl will be introducing an ongoing stream of streetbike and extreme stunt apparel and accessories in upcoming months. Check out their newest addition and what is said to be the hottest new leather gloves for girls to hit the market.

And, not just catering to the retail customer. GixxerGirl is creating an avenue of opportunity for e-commerce dealers and independent shops with their wholesale division. E-commerce dealers can offer GixxerGirl products and have them drop shipped directly to their retail customers.
