

Preventative maintenance just got a new ally! www.tsmgroup2.com

Reduce maintenance costs by 50%, reduce operating temperatures dramatically, reduce emissions up to 50% or more, increase the life of your mechanical equipment or vehicle by up to 100% or more!

(PRWEB) November 30, 2003 -- 99.9% oil compatibility, environmentally friendly, biodegradable, cuts right into friction, reducing wear and operating temperatures like nothing I've ever seen before, gives you 3-50% better mileage or more depending upon the mechanics of your machinery, product cost payback in less than 6 months in most cases. Other products are available for other tasks as well, grease formulas with anti-friction recipe for those wheel bearings and other applications, sprays for those hard to reach places, and we even carry a battery additive to help keep your batter from ever failing on you. I've personally used most of my own products and I have to say I am impressed everytime I use them for their performance and use to accomplish exactly what I need when I need it. I think you will be too. My company is working on other products and services to help reduce additional costs for you as well.
