

US Fleet Tracking Provides 2 Tips For Obtaining Mobile-Friendly GPS Tracker Updates

US Fleet Tracking talks about how businesses can receive important GPS tracker information via text messages.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma (PRWEB) August 17, 2016 -- Can any business oriented person really go anywhere these days without their cell phone? Truthfully, it'd be pretty difficult to operate without that connection. While US Fleet Tracking doesn't condone fleet drivers looking down at their phone while making their way down the road, the mobile-friendly GPS tracker updates are a superb way for managers to keep tabs on things happening in the field. It's no surprise that fleet managers will need to check their cell phones. Now, thanks to the convenience of GPS tracker updates being mobile-friendly they have a good reason to be looking at their phone. Today, US Fleet Tracking provides 2 tips for obtaining these important updates via text messages.

#1- Receiving Alerts: After logging into the system, it's simple to access the alert set-up feature by clicking into the "alerts" area. The GPS tracker alert system, then, empowers users to create a limitless number of alerts all with the ability to be sent as a text message and/or an email anytime the programmed event takes place. Think about how easy obtaining reminders of scheduled vehicle maintenance could be!

#2- Receiving Reports: With GPS tracker software, the data collected can be generated into reports, some of which can be viewed on a cell phone. This information can be viewed by clicking into the "reports" area and selecting a type of report to read. The most helpful reports might include information about driver analytics including speed, idling, aggressive driving, and mileage. Having all this sent directly to managers encourages them to sustain an efficient business with fewer vehicle breakdowns, accidents, and high-dollar repair bills.

As a bonus, signing in to the cell phone application is easy to do and users can opt to check the "Remember me" button to ensure that they don't have to remember their password the next time they want to log in. Start receiving important GPS tracker information on a cell phone to add some more ease to the day!
