

InventHelp Inventor Designs SHADE LOUNGE (OCM-993)

One of America's largest invention companies, InventHelp is submitting the SHADE LOUNGE to companies for their review.

PITTSBURGH, PA (PRWEB) July 25, 2016 -- An inventor, from Bloomington, Calif., thought there could be a more effective way for tailgaters, campers and workers to use the rear of a pickup truck, so he invented the patent-pending SHADE LOUNGE.

The SHADE LOUNGE offers an improved way to utilize the rear space of a parked pickup truck. It also provides added protection against the sun and rain. As a result, it enhances comfort. The invention features a user-friendly design that is convenient and easy to use so it is ideal for the owners of pickup trucks. Additionally, the SHADE LOUNGE is producible in design variations.

The inventor described the invention design. “My design enhances comfort and convenience while providing protection from the sun and rain.”

The original design was submitted to the Orange County office of InventHelp. It is currently available for licensing or sale to manufacturers or marketers.
