

InventHelp Inventors Develop Racing-Themed Auto Accessory (WDH-894)

A leading inventor service firm, InventHelp is submitting the AUTOFFITI to companies in the hopes of their good faith review.

PITTSBURGH, PA (PRWEB) August 17, 2016 -- "We wanted our vehicle to feature a racecar theme, which is what led us to come up with a line of easy-to-apply decals that show the motorist's support for a favorite driver," said one of two inventors from La Plata, Md.

They created a prototype for the patent pending AUTOFFITI to add a stylish graphic to the vehicle exterior. The accessory clearly demonstrates one's interest in automotive racing. The decal features an attention-getting design. It can be applied to any vehicle. Furthermore, the invention is producible in a wide array of styles and designs, which can reflect one's enthusiasm for any sport or even a business logo. AUTOFFITI is easily removable and reusable.

The original design was submitted to the Washington D.C. office of InventHelp. It is currently available for licensing or sale to manufacturers or marketers.
