

Vejur Media is pleased to announce NEWTECH magazine's continued growth and acceptance

NEWTECH magazine enters its third month of publication by debuting its CarTech section. NEWTECH educates readers and consumers in existing and emerging technologies that impact their lives, and connects them with businesses that provide needed products and services.

(PRWEB) March 15, 2004 --NEWTECH Magazine is a monthly, tabloid sized publication exploring technological trends and ramifications on the modern lifestyle. Technology affects everything from health and fitness to consumer electronics to gaming and the Internet to all aspects of our business life. Readers turn to NEWTECH not only for educational and informational purposes, but also as a credible source for making purchasing decisions on consumer and business goods.

“Our goal with NEWTECH is to educate readers and consumers in Dallas about the fast growing technologies and new products that impact almost every facet of their lives,” said Alan Friedrichs, Editor-in-chief of NEWTECH Magazine.

NEWTECH focuses on different areas of technology within its pages. GameTech (focusing on the gaming industry), MedTech (focusing on advances in medicine), and CarTech (focusing on cars and other vehicles) are just three of the monthly sections NEWTECH features. TravelTech (focusing on the travel and vacation industry) and InventTech (focusing on new inventions) are scheduled to debut in the coming months.

CONTACT:

For advertising opportunities, +1-972-291-9297, or sales@newtechmag.com.

For editorial submissions, +1-972-291-9297, or editor@newtechmag.com.

About Vejur Media:

Vejur Media is a publishing group dedicated to integrity, producing publications that benefit its advertisers with a vehicle to successfully promote their products or services, and be an informative and entertaining resource for its readers.

Alan Friedrichs, Editor-in-chief

Mr. Friedrichs previously has been the Editor-in-chief for such publications as Texas Technology and Entertainment Technology magazines. Under his guidance, these magazines started to recognize and comment on the transformation of personal computing, the convergence of technology and lifestyles, and commentary on what the future holds.

Contact Information

Alan Beckner
VEJUR MEDIA
972.291.9297

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.