

KAI Total Pavement Management Awarded “Top Paver” from The Home Depot

Kansas Paving Company Wins Another - this time Top Paver from The Home Depot. A division of Kansas Asphalt, Inc., KAI Total Pavement Management provides pavement maintenance and reconstruction solutions for commercial clients such as The Home Depot across the country.

Bucyrus, KS (PRWEB) March 16, 2017 -- KAI Total Pavement Management announced today that it has been awarded The Home Depot Top Paver - 2016.

The award was presented during the 2017 Parking Lot Summit held in Delray Beach, Florida. The event was hosted by Jim Watson, John Hannah and Vincent Deckers with The Home Depot Commercial Area Maintenance Service. The award was presented by Watson, Senior Manager of Building Services, and received by Chuck Jeffries, Managing Director of KAI Total Pavement Management. KAI received the award for the overall execution of work performed in 2016 for capital related parking lot improvement projects.

“This award is for the entire team. We have a great group of folks in our project management and field construction teams that work hard and live our core values everyday,” says Jeffries. “We are truly honored to work with The Home Depot and this recognition means a great deal to us.”
