

Custom Exhaust System Invented by InventHelp Client (JMC-1823)

A leading invention submission company, InventHelp, is submitting the Sport Exhaust System to companies for their review.

PITTSBURGH, PA (PRWEB) October 08, 2016 -- "I love the look of a custom car," said an inventor from Memphis, Tenn. "I wanted to customize the appearance of my exhaust system, which led me to develop this alternative muffler that adds a personal touch to the vehicle."

He developed the Sport Exhaust System to serve as a stylish exhaust system. The accessory adds a custom touch to the vehicle. It provides a quick and easy way to personalize a vehicle's appearance. The component is easy to install and adaptable for use with virtually any vehicle. Furthermore, the inventor believes that it is set to become a must-have automotive system.

The original design was submitted to the National Sales Office of InventHelp. It is currently available for licensing or sale to manufacturers or marketers.
