

Iran's Automotive Sector

Research and Markets have announced the addition of the 'Iran's Automotive Sector' report to their offering.

(PRWEB) July 5, 2004 -- One of the most anticipated and subsequently popular reports produced, the Automotive Industry report addresses all the major issues regarding this important Iranian industry. The report looks at the industry from the beginning of car manufacturing in Iran during the 1960s to today's domestic production as well as increasing demand and international competition. This report includes past and present policies and laws, the obstacles and prospects of imports, descriptions of the various domestically produced vehicles, active companies and the future prospects of this industry in Iran.

The statistical data and information given in this report correspond to the Iranian Calendar year, which start 21 March of each year. For example, the year 2000 in this report represents the time interval of 21 March 2000 to 20 March 2001.
