

InventHelp Invention Helps Apprehend Thieves Who Steal Items from Vehicles (PIT-406)

A leading inventor service firm, InventHelp is submitting the THEFT CAMERA to companies for their possible feedback.

PITTSBURGH, PA (PRWEB) July 25, 2017 -- An inventor from Brockway, Pa., is concerned about how many thieves get away with stealing things from vehicle interiors. "I've had many items stolen from my vehicle, and I finally decided to design something to put a stop to this crime," he said. "That's when I came up with the idea for the patent-pending THEFT CAMERA."

This invention provides a way to catch thieves who steal thing from a vehicle. It allows for easier identification and arrest by law enforcement, as well as helps prevent the hassle and expense of lost items.

Inconspicuous, easy to use and suitable for all vehicles, the THEFT CAMERA promotes safety and peace of mind.

The original design was submitted to the Pittsburgh office of InventHelp. It is currently available for licensing or sale to manufacturers or marketers.
