(PRWEB) November 12, 2004 -- Research and Markets (<http://www.researchandmarkets.com/reports/c9056>) has announced the addition of Transportation Finance Review 2004 / 2005 to their offering.

This Transportation Finance Review offers a highly authoritative reflection of the changing face of global transport development and its funding. Individual chapters from leading transport players focus on aspects of finance, regulatory issues and infrastructure development, with particular emphasis on project finance, PPP and privatisation.

Country specific chapters feature case studies of recent projects presenting an informative picture of infrastructure modernisation around the world, and how it is being financed. More general chapters explain the newest forms of funding structures, contractual negotiations, and market trends.

For this 7th edition of Transportation Finance Review, road and air feature prominently, mirroring current industry activity. Chapters on road include: the Austrian Europass PPP, Brebemi toll road, Chilean Road Project, and Mexican toll roads. Privatisation and airport master planning are among the subjects representing the air industry. Other Chapters include: PPPs in Brazil, bank finance for road projects in the UK and Ireland, successfully negotiating road concessions, UK light and heavy rail, and transportation financing and the Australian capital markets.

With articles from four of the five continents, Transportation Finance Review is truly a global picture of today's developing transportation infrastructure and a window on the future of travel.
