

Anchor General Insurance Company Selects ACD for AutoLink® Claims Workflow Solution

Anchor General Insurance Company has selected ACD's AutoLink® material damage workflow platform to deliver increased efficiency and streamline operations.

Carlsbad, CA (PRWEB) October 31, 2016 -- ACD, a leading claims technology, decision support, advisory and service network aggregator to the property and casualty industry today announced that Anchor General Insurance Company has selected ACD's AutoLink® material damage workflow platform to deliver increased efficiency and streamline operations.

“We at ACD are very excited to bring our entire suite of solutions to Anchor General and help them drive customer satisfaction and deliver tools that can dramatically improve the claims process,” stated Ernie Bray, CEO of ACD.

“We decided upon ACD after considering a variety of available options,” stated Joe L. Kaiser, CPCU, AGIC's Vice President of Claims. “ACD offers a compelling all-in-one solution that aligns well with our philosophy of increasing efficiency and delivering great service to our customers.”

ACD's AutoLink® platform and integrated solutions connect insurers with a modern, scalable on-demand solution that covers the entire material damage process. ACD's ability to deliver customization and workflow optimization has elevated the company as an industry leader in technology. ACD was just recently named by Entrepreneur Magazine's Entrepreneur 360™ as one of the “Best Entrepreneurial Companies In America” and was named to Inc. Magazine's Inc. 5000 for the sixth year in August.

“Our driven focus on process improvement has helped so many insurers that once they see we have every tool from mobile self-service virtual claims processing to traditional appraisals, DRP, CollisionSelect™ and salvage all wrapped up in a comprehensive unified platform, they become huge fans. We eliminate the fragmented patchwork processes that drive up costs and concentrate on digitizing the claims process with on-demand claims solutions,” added Bray.

About ACD
