

Salem NationalLease Enriches its Service

Software agreement with Richer Systems Group Inc. allows for implementation of Enrich Transportation Management System

(PRWEB) May 16, 2004 -- Richer Systems Group (RSG), the leader in software solutions for the fleet management industry, announced that Salem NationalLease of Winston Salem, North Carolina, one of the largest NationalLease affiliates, is the latest transportation services provider to implement the Enrich Transportation Management System (TMS).

The partnership will allow Salem to access the complete range of functionality offered by the Enrich TMS, capable of managing the entire enterprise of full service truck rental and leasing companies including dedicated and logistics services.

"We saw Enrich as the only business system capable of handling all facets of our operations," said Tom Teague, president and CEO of Salem. "This will become a key element supporting the growth of Salem and its reputation for customer service excellence."

Eric Richer, president of Richer Systems Group, added, "Salem NationalLease required comprehensive functionality within a single and highly integrated suite of business applications. Enrich will be able to deliver those requirements and we are excited about the benefits that Salem will enjoy as a result."

Salem has committed to install the maintenance, asset, contract and financial management modules of the Enrich system. Also slated for implementation are software modules for fuel sales, fuel tax and license compliance, and business intelligence.

RSG's Enrich product offers modules for every aspect of the transportation services industry from full service lease and rental operators to common carriers. Comprehensive functionality, complete integration and simplified IT administration are the hallmarks of the Enrich software system. Customers can deploy the Enrich software modules, in whole or in part, to meet the unique requirements of each enterprise.
