

U.S. Bank Offers Auto Dealers Free Online Access To Wholesale Floorplan Loan Information

DataScan Technologies to Host Online Systems

ATLANTA, GA (PRWEB) May 21, 2004 - U.S. Bank (NYSE:USB), a leading global financial services firm, today announced a major application deployment in its automotive wholesale floorplan division. U.S. Bank signed with DataScan Technologies, LLC to implement the Wholesale Management System (WMS) and the Dealer Access System (DAS), the Internet-based technology for secure dealer access to floorplan loan information. DataScan will host the systems in its secured headquarters in Alpharetta, Georgia via its Application Service Provider (ASP) Solution.

DAS is the first application of its kind in the industry offering online wholesale floorplan functionality for the dealer population with access via the Internet. U.S. Bank's auto dealers will have instant access to request funding for new loans, make payments, print reports and billing statements, and inquire about other floorplan loan information.

"We're excited about being able to offer our dealers DAS," said Mike Rogers, manager of Dealer Commercial Services, U.S. Bank. "Not only will it strengthen our relationship with our dealer body, but it will streamline productivity and save us thousands of manual-entry hours a year."

Tom Martin, president and CEO of DataScan Technologies added, "U.S. Bank has been a valued client using our Nationwide Audit Services since 1994. By expanding our relationship and deploying our products via our ASP model, U.S. Bank will step ahead of its lending competition by offering dealers this competitive edge."

U.S. Bank will go live in August 2004.
