(PRWEB) May 25, 2004 -- EX-DEALERS FINANCING DEALERSHIPS:

FundingLinks Inc. today announced a joint venture with Prospexx Auto Business Finance (PABF), a group of ex-dealers and special lenders who provide car dealers, recreational vehicle dealers & the auto industry nationwide with access to capital to start, grow, or rescue their businesses. In a market that is volatile & often viewed with skepticism, this special finance group works with dealerships throughout the U.S.A., Canada and the world to bring stability, strength, & longevity to their businesses. Financing is available for floor planning, operating capital injection, buy-ins/buy-outs, business start-ups, inventory financing, expansion capital, payable financing & debt consolidation.

Financing is geared toward businesses that have maximized financing from traditional sources. $\hat{A} \square$ Traditional lenders avoid projects that don $\hat{A} \square$ t fall into the template style lending that are based on strict, predictable guidelines because they $\hat{A} \square$ re not equipped to properly manage the inherent risks. $\hat{A} \square$ explains Tom McKenzie, principal & portfolio manager. $\hat{A} \square$ We have in-house expertise to assess the risks, make decisions & quickly respond to a variety of funding scenarios, while working closely with the borrowers to guide them through the funding process. $\hat{A} \square$

With over two decades experience in operating & financing dealerships, PABF relies on its own highly knowledgeable executive team for investment advice, risk analysis, & due diligence review. With its excellent track record, PABF is able to tap substantial funds for businesses through a standing alliance of internal & external lenders and investors. The joint venture partner $\hat{A} \square s$ ability to respond quickly to borrower demands regardless of the unusual or unorthodox conditions can often make the difference between success & failure for dealers.

 $\hat{A} \square$ Business financing is a relationship business where we partner with both the finance partners and our clients to achieve a common goal $\hat{A} \square$ says Lil Sawyer, Managing Director of FundingLinks. By leveraging the marketing, client relations & business analysis expertise of FundingLinks and the significant financial strength, dealer expertise, & flexibility of PBAF, this joint venture has created a powerful new force in dealer financing, capable of providing true, single-source convenience, with distinct advantages over other funding sources.

FundingLinks Inc. is a Toronto based business capital broker company linking entrepreneurs worldwide to business capital via partners such as PABF.
