

Meridian Honda sings many praises for the 2022 Odyssey and 2021 CR-V

Honda models offer significant advantages over key rivals

MERIDIAN, Miss. (PRWEB) March 19, 2021 -- The product experts at Meridian Honda were just getting comfortable with the automaker's 2021 model year and then 2022 models started to roll in – spearheaded by the latest version of the Honda Odyssey minivan. In addition to the 2022 version of the very family-friendly minivan being available, dealership visitors will still be able to see a broad lineup of flexible crossover SUVs for sale or lease at the showroom, including the 2021 Honda CR-V. Both Honda vehicles are in the top echelon of options in each vehicles' respective class, and the dealership is ready to help future buyers comparison shop for new models. People interested in the 2022 Odyssey or 2021 CR-V will find both Honda vehicles have several marked advantages over top rivals.

Meridian Honda customers with growing and active families have picked its minivan for a long time and for many reasons. The 2022 Honda Odyssey introduces a new exterior paint color, Radiant Red Metallic II, but otherwise largely carries over the features that appeared in the previous model. Honda makes five trims available for the 2022 Odyssey, LX, EX, EX-L, Touring and Elite. All of them are powered by a naturally aspirated 3.5-liter, V-6 engine and can offer more interior cargo volume than one of its longtime competitors.

The inside of the 2022 Odyssey can be configured to make up to 144.9 cubic-feet of cargo volume available. People who choose the recently redesigned rival will only have a maximum of 101 cubic-feet of cargo volume to use.

Flexibility, passenger comfort and performance are all readily on display with the 2021 Honda CR-V. Potential owners will be able to choose among four 2021 CR-V trim grades, LX, EX, EX-L and Touring. Each of them will have a turbocharged 1.5-liter, four-cylinder engine under the hood that will produce 190 horsepower, a bit more than one of its rivals can make. Additionally, the 2021 CR-V LX can make up to 75.8 cubic-feet available to haul cargo, a number that edges out the same previously referenced challenger.
