

AAA Oregon-Idaho To Carry Southern Oregon Company's New Invention- -Rescue Facts:

AAA Oregon and Southern Idaho travel stores carry Rescue Facts pack in AAA stores in Oregon and Southern Idaho.

(PRWEB) June 25, 2004 -- The recent write up in the Business Section of the Mail Tribune in Medford, Oregon featuring Rescue Facts prompted the local Medford AAA to contact their Portland office about the ingenious, bright red, wrap-around nylon folder holding pertinent identification and medical information for use in the event of any emergency.

AAA Oregon and Southern Idaho travel stores saw the value of the Rescue Facts pack and now they can be found in AAA stores in Oregon and Southern Idaho. Rescue Facts is a nylon folder fastened by Velcro that not only fits a seat belt, but can also be used on walkers, belts, purses, canes, backpacks, bicycles, motorcycles, and a smaller model is also available to fit child car seats. The device contains all the necessary identification information about the patient and his/her blood type, allergies, medical conditions, primary physician and more. There is also room for a photo.

AAA will carry the bright red version with the medical alert logo, Rescue Facts is designed to capture the attention of emergency personnel at the scene and the information it contains gives them the ability to provide prompt, efficient treatment.

Rescue Facts is affordable enough to have one for every member of the family. Contact Rescue Facts online at www.ResuceFacts.com or by phone at 541-665-2373, or write to Rescue Facts, PO Box 3157, Central Point, OR 97502 or visit your local AAA office.
