

What do Ralph Nader, SUVs and Gay Marriage Have in Common? Russ Buchanan's hilarious 3-song EP; Laugh Through Your Tears at Midnight Graffiti Magazine

The Russ Buchanan EP, featuring "TheSUV Song (Me and My SUV)," "Ralph,Don't Run"and "A Love Chantey"-- a gay marriage sing-along, can be heard in the pages of this award-winning culture / literary magazine.

Woodland Hills, CA (PRWEB) July 31, 2004 -- If you still have a sense of humor after four years of Mr. Unilateral and the Neocons, give "The Russ Buchanan EP" a listen at Midnight Graffiti Magazine.

Midnight Graffiti Magazine, the award-winning culture / literary magazine, has ventured into the netherworld known as the "Record Business" with its debut CD, "The Russ Buchanan EP."

A little musical fun at the expense of Ralph Nader, Hummers and Homophobia, "The Russ Buchanan EP" features "Ralph, Don't Run," "The SUV Song (Me and My SUV)" and "A Love Chantey" -- a gay marriage sing-along.

In the tradition of Tom Leher, Frank Zappa and Michael Moore (if he could sing), Russ Buchanan's satire is hilarious and right on the money. In addition to its recent featured slot on the radio newsmagazine, "This Way Out," and raves in "GayToday.com,"and "The Village Weekly,""The Russ Buchanan EP" is being played on Pacifica, RadioLeft, college and comedy radio stations throughout the country.

And, while you're listening to the "Russ Buchanan EP," give the rest of Midnight Graffiti a look. It is still the best culture / literary magazine on the web.
