

New Thinking Launches New Website to help Car Owners find good, honest auto repair professionals in San Diego, California.

New Thinking today announced the launch of a new website, sandiegoautorepair.com, a free online service that helps help Car Owners find good, honest auto repair professionals in San Diego, California.

(PRWEB) August 11, 2004 -- sandiegoautorepair.com assists car owners by offering a selection of auto repair mechanics that have been chosen for their high quality service and skills. Unlike the online yellow pages sandiegoautorepair.com only allows 15 mechanics per category which range from Oil changes to more specialty services such as Engine Rebuilds.

sandiegoautorepair.com also offers an innovative service called "Ask a Mechanic" open to anyone throughout the US. This allows the visitor to ask an automotive question on any subject which will be answered by one of our partner automotive professionals within 72 hours. Questions can be as complicated as the visitor wishes and expert advice is always given. (Fee of $2.95 applies)

"We just wanted to be a little different than the usual online directory and the Auto Repair industry has suffered from a bad reputation from a few companies that have been interested in only taking people's money. Limiting our categories to only 15 mechanics makes perfect sense" says Nigel Atkinson, New Thinking's CEO and founder.

sandiegoautorepair.com helps consumers better research the auto repair services in the San Diego area before getting their vehicle repaired.
