

Automotive Water, Wind, and Dust Leak Repair Software Released

Water Doctors International, announces the release of their much anticipated step by step software package involving Automotive Water, Wind and Dust leak repairs.

Myrtle Beach, SC (PRWEB) September 18, 2004 -- Water Doctors International, announces the release of their much anticipated step by step software package involving Automotive Water, Wind and Dust leak repairs.

Conceived in 1998 as a way to respond to the flood of calls coming from un-franchised and unserviceable areas, Water Doctors, with over 90 franchises and the national leader in these types of repairs, contracted with several development teams to create a complete training and database package that would allow any service technician to competently make Water, Wind, and Dust leak repairs on every make and model of automobile released since 1989.

With over 5000 repairs available and complete sections on training and diagnostics, a dealership or any automotive service retailer obtaining this software can view simple step by step repair instructions with digital photos and graphics, read about tech notes involved with each step, see the tools involved, write warranty claims and invoices on this type of repair, learn the proper testing procedures, and be confident that the process is done right. Time estimates are provided with each repair, along with all materials and tools needed, and the repairs are designed for anyone to perform, thereby freeing the service center's top technicians for other projects.

“This is a low cost opportunity for any automotive service retailer to obtain a software package that contains the knowledge and information gathered over 28 years from our in-field technicians, and add a new profit center to their business working with their same customers.” Says Jim Vandale, CEO of Water Doctors International.

Eppy Van Veen, the service manager of Metro Motors in Port Coquitlam, B.C Canada, was one of the early testers and purchasers of the software and says "If you are thinking about increasing your repair productivity and increasing traffic into your dealership, this is one tool that is proving to work well for our dealership.”

Included with the introductory priced $1500 annual license is access to the corporate 1-800 technical support line where combined knowledge and field experience is over 60 years of performing the field repairs. This added benefit assures that any technician anywhere will be able to diagnose, repair, guarantee, and properly invoice for water, wind, noise and dust leaks, something that in the past has caused every automotive service company unbillable time and frustration.

With annual updates and a complete package offered, profit and customer service indexes should rise thanks to this new software package from Water Doctors International.
