

RV Parks Get Glimpse of Future for Wireless at ARVC Conference in Savanna, GA

NOMAD ISP to show NLOS Antenna at The National Association of RV Parks & Campgrounds (ARVC) conference.

(PRWEB) November 26, 2004 -- NOMAD ISP a leading RV park wireless integrator, will represent the Wifi-Plus antenna line at the upcoming The National Association of RV Parks & Campgrounds (ARVC) conference in Savanna, Georgia. NOMAD ISP will be at booth #505 Dec 2-4.

Allen Higgins, COO of Wifi-Plus said, "Multi-Polarized antennas have tremendous obstruction-penetrating qualities in obstructed NLOS operations due to their ability to utilize reflected and refracted signals that most other antennas see as noise. These antennas correct problems such as fade and dropouts associated with wireless deployments due to trees, obstructions and weather. They are ideal for RV park use."

Nomad ISP is proud to show the innovative multi-polarized antenna products of WiFi-Plus that have obstruction penetrating capability for NLOS wireless installs. RV parks and hotels will find these next generation antennas are state of the art and cost effective, for any wireless deployment.

Interested parties should visit NOMAD ISP or contact them directly for pricing and further information on these exciting antenna solutions for Wi-Fi or WiMAX".
