

Shield Total Insurance launch New Caravan Selector tool with all the latest 2016 touring caravan models

Caravan and motorhome insurance specialist, Shield Total Insurance, has announced the launch of its new Caravan Selector tool. The resource is the most comprehensive and complete online tool available providing all the latest information around the 2016 ranges, and sits within Shield's growing information hub for UK caravan and motorhome owners and enthusiasts.

(PRWEB UK) 15 January 2016 -- Caravan and motorhome insurance specialist, Shield Total Insurance, has announced the launch of its new Caravan Selector tool. The resource is the most comprehensive and complete online tool available providing all the latest information around the 2016 ranges, and sits within Shield's growing information hub for UK caravan and motorhome owners and enthusiasts.

The tool can be used to compare all new caravan models on the market today, allowing users to browse nearly 280 models from their favourite manufacturers and gather all the information needed to find the new caravan that best suits them.

Visitors can select their ideal berth, length and weight and choose their preferred manufacturers, from Adria through to Weinsberg. The search results provide a wealth of helpful information including price, floor plans, dimensions, indicative annual insurance premium and even a helpful comment from UK caravan expert Andrew Jenkinson.

With new models ranging in price from £10,595 to £31,394, sleeping between 2 and 7 people, and containing a range of improved and updated layouts and features, the tool can help create a shortlist of models according to your specific needs and requirements.

Stuart Craig, Shield Total Insurance Marketing Manager, commented:

“Now leisure vehicle enthusiasts can get all the information they need to find their perfect new caravan at the click of a button. We'll be gathering and increasing the number of models as they are released, so the tool will always hold the most up to date information and latest model releases – we're excited about the potential this resource holds for the UK caravanning community.”

The Caravan Selector tool is now live on the Shield Total Insurance website – visit it here:
