Alpinestars Racing Apparel

Alpinestars started out making racing shoes for motocross racing back in 1963. The company now makes shoes, gloves, racing suits, and fire-retardant underclothes for all types of motorsports with a dose of Italian style.. Summit Racing carries Alpinestars racing suits, shoes, gloves, Nomex fire-retardant undergarments, head socks, gear bags, and more.

Racequip SA2015 Helmets

If a racer damaged their helmet last season or has any doubt as to its effectiveness, now's a great time to get a new Racequip SA2015 Helmet. They meet Snell SA2015 safety standards and feature an all-new design that incorporates 'prepreg' construction that ensures uniform shell thickness while leaving the outer surface smooth and blemish-free. Summit Racing offers Racequip SA2015 Helmets in full-face and open face versions.

Simpson C5R Driver Window Nets

If racers don't have a means of containing their upper body and head inside the vehicle, the chances of serious injury go way, way up. That's why they should have some sort of window net. Simpson's C5R Driver Window Net is taller to contain both head and shoulders in an accident. The net itself is made from one inch wide webbing, which gives better visibility compared to nets with two inch wide webbing. The C5R also has longer straps with a ratcheting adjuster to keep the net extremely tight and reach the cage in bigger cars.

Summit Racing carries a huge inventory of safety equipment for all types of racing--check it out in the Safety Equipment section at SummitRacing.com.
