Bmer Services, the London based BMW repair specialist, has unveiled a new range of fixed price service packages for 2014.

(PRWEB UK) 1 January 2014 -- Bmer Services, the London based BMW repair specialist, has unveiled a new range of fixed price service packages for 2014. With the cost of owning and running a car rising all the time, the firm is taking a stand to make motoring more affordable in 2014. With all parts, labour and VAT included in the price that is quoted to customers, Bmer Services looks forward to helping BMW owners make the most of the year ahead.

Since 2006, Bmer Services has been recognised as providing the best value BMW service London has to offer. In this time, the garage has attended to more than 10,000 cars. The head technician at the garage has more than 20 years' worth of experience at a main dealer, and the garage utilises the very latest in diagnostic equipment. A high quality car like a BMW requires a high quality service to stay in excellent condition, and this is exactly what is on offer from Bmer Services.

Anyone that has been involved in a car crash or finds out that their vehicle is in need of repairs has already suffered a shock. This is why Bmer Services is determined to ensure that the cost of repairs doesn't provide any further shocks. The firm is regarded as offering the most effective BMW repairs London can provide, and the no obligation quote is guaranteed to be the price that customers pay. While some London garages quote a low price before adding additional costs, Bmer Services promises in 2014, there is no need to pay more than has been quoted for any job. This is a promise that is sure to bring benefit to BMW drivers and businesses in the year ahead.

As the number one BMW specialist London has to offer, Bmer Services looks forward to helping BMW drivers enjoy their car in the year ahead. The highly trained team of technicians are dedicated to offering the best possible service. Whether a car owner is being proactive or reactive in having their car analysed by the experts, the best service in London is available from Bmer Services. 2014 may prove to be an expensive year in many aspects, but when it comes to providing a high quality car with the best possible service, Bmer Services is the team to call upon for value and effectiveness.
