

Edashkit.com Announces Wooddashkit.com online shop.

Edashkit, manufacture of high quality Wood Grain, Carbon and Aluminum Automotive Dash Trim Kits announces a second site open to the public.

(PRWEB) May 13, 2003 -- The management of Edashkit.com is pleased to announce yet another development in the Edashkit family, WoodDashKit.com.

Edashkit based in Richmond, VA has manufactured dash trim kits for many vehicle makes and models for over 12 years and looks to make a more prominent internet presence.

"In the past 12 months with our internet growth we have experienced a 60 percent increase in overall sales and an extremely high 97 percent customer approval rating" stated Jim Bishop an edashkit.com representative.

Bishop like many others at Edashkit have geared up for what appears to be a massive "online campaign" designed to strengthen Edashkit sales to a Worldwide audience.

"We look forward to servicing the needs of dealerships, custom shops and the everyday one on one relationship that we have built with online shoppers" Bishop added.

Edashkit.com has been manufacturing Wood Grain, Carbon Fiber and Aluminum Dash Trim Kits for twelve years. With a high focus on quality and premium finishing Edashkit.com is poised to be successful in a very competitive industry.
