

RacingJunk.Com Named the Official Classifieds of Outlaw Truck & Tractor Pulling Association

RacingJunk.Com, the leader in automotive motorsports-and-performance related classifieds, has recently been named the Official Classifieds for Outlaw Truck & Tractor Pulling Association.

North Adams, MA (PRWEB) October 02, 2016 -- RacingJunk.Com, the leader in automotive motorsports-and-performance related classifieds, has recently been named the Official Classifieds for Outlaw Truck & Tractor Pulling Association. This partnership will support greater awareness and attendance of OTTPA events, while broadening RacingJunk.com's reach to a community of competitors and fans that can benefit from its free services.

RacingJunk.com has a dedicated section for tractor and truck pulling that includes vehicles, engines, parts and accessories. With over 850,000 registered members, RacingJunk.com connects to more than 2.0 million buyers and sellers every month, generating 30 million plus page views.

OTTPA was formed in Springfield, Missouri, in 1982. It is the premier pulling association in the Midwest, sanctioning over 70 sessions of pulling in 50 cities and towns from Texas to South Dakota. With 14 classes offered and 250 plus competing vehicles, OTTPA offers the best in truck and tractor pulling to promoters in the Midwest, and has become their choice for its fast and exciting events. OTTPA has a 30 minute weekly show on NBC Sports, which will begin its 2016 run this Fall. OTTPA is dedicated to bringing the most heart pounding, fast paced and exciting show possible. The most powerful sport in the Motorsports Industry, OTTPA continues to grow in events and audience annually.

Jim Sweeney, Director of Sales for RacingJunk, said, "Partnering with an association such as OTTPA offers incredible opportunity for not only us and the dozens of facilities where OTTPA events are held, but also for the fans and competitors. We are looking forward to having OTTPA as a member of the RacingJunk.com family. While we're probably most well-known for drag racing, RacingJunk's founders created the site to serve the pulling community, and we still have hundreds of pulling vehicles and related engines and parts listed in our classifieds, which is a perfect fit for our original grassroots audience."

Kurt Van Beek, Co-Owner/COO of OTTPA, commented, "The OTTPA is extremely excited about this partnership with RacingJunk.com. We feel this will be a great opportunity for both RacingJunk.com and the OTTPA, as both are heavily involved in the Motorsports Industry. We look forward to helping RacingJunk.com continue to become the leader in Motorsports Classifieds as well receiving new exposure to fans from across the nation."
