

Local Mazda Dealership Updates Its Model Research Page with 2021 Models

2021 Mazda Models Have Been Added to the Fontana Mazda Research Page

FONTANA, Calif. (PRWEB) November 20, 2020 -- Mazda fans who are in the process of searching for a new model will be glad to hear that they can find new research pages on the Fontana Mazda website. The local dealership has been encouraging customers to check out its Mazda model research page since it was created. This page offers information on specific models as well as pages that compare the models to rival brands. Recently, the team has updated the page with 2021 Mazda models.

The three models added are the 2021 Mazda CX-30, 2021 Mazda CX-9 and 2021 Mazda3 Sedan. Drivers who want a bigger vehicle should check out the 2021 Mazda CX-30 or 2021 Mazda CX-9 page. The Mazda CX-30 is a newer crossover SUV that is in between the Mazda CX-3 and Mazda CX-5 in terms of size. This page covers the available trim levels, available features and performance specifications.

For those who prefer a three-row SUV, they should check out the Mazda CX-9 page. This page focuses on the SUV's performance capability, interior space and key features. Any customer who prefers a smaller vehicle should check out the research page for the 2021 Mazda3 Sedan. The page for this sedan focuses on its available trim levels, available features and engine performance specifications.

If any customers would like to learn more about these models, they can find more information at fontanamazda.com. They can also direct their questions to the sales team by calling 833-804-5413. Interested parties who follow social distancing guidelines and wear a face mask can also visit the dealership at 16800 S. Highland Ave in Fontana.
