Cedar Knolls, NJ (PRWEB) July 31, 2004 -- Team TRIMSPA driver David Stremme hopes to turn around his luck this weekend heading into Saturday's Gould's Pumps® 250 at Pikes Peak International Raceway®. Stremme has recently endured a string of three finishes of 28th or worse, each stemming from being bumped by a competitor while running in the top 10. Last year, while driving for Phoenix Racing, Stremme had success at Pikes Peak, finishing 11th.

"We are going up there with one goal in mind," said Stremme, driver of the TRIMSPA X32 Dodge. "Stay out of trouble and post a top finish to get this team turned around. Our luck lately has been especially frustrating because our cars have been awesome, that just doesn't ensure someone else isn't going to run into you."

Just three races ago, Stremme had the car to beat at The Milwaukee Mile, leading 73 laps and narrowly missing his first Busch Series victory to settle for a second-place finish. Despite Team TRIMSPA's struggles since that race, Stremme knows another breakthrough run, and possibly his first Busch victory, is within his grasp.

"If the TRIMSPA Team can keep bringing fast cars to the racetrack like we had the past month, then I am sure we will put together some more top finishes and a win before this year is finished," explained Stremme.

"Pikes Peak is a unique track and I really got the feel for it last year in my first start there. We were running as high as third at one point."

Stremme and Team TRIMSPA look to rebound from last weekend's disappointment at New Hampshire when they compete at Pikes Peak International Raceway in the Gould's Pumps® 250 on July 31st. The event will be televised live at 3:30 p.m. eastern time on TNT and nationally on radio stations affiliated with Motor Racing Network® (MRN) and XM Satellite Radio Channel 144.
