

Axle Honored in Built In's Esteemed 2022 Best Places To Work Awards

Axle Earns spot on Built In's Top 100 Remote-First Companies to Work for in 2022

NEW YORK (PRWEB) January 06, 2022 -- Built In today announced that Axle was honored in its 2022 Best Places To Work Awards. Specifically, Axle earned a place in the Top 100 Remote-First Companies to Work for in 2022. The annual awards program includes companies of all sizes and honors both remote-first employers as well as companies in the eight largest tech markets across the U.S.

“We are excited to be honored by Built In for Axle’s efforts in building a supportive, team-first culture and offering best-in-class benefits,” says Bharath Krishnamoorthy, Axle Co-founder and CEO. “We’re growing fast and looking forward to adding over 100 new Axlenauts in 2022.”

Built In determines the winners of Best Places to Work based on an algorithm, using company data about compensation, benefits and companywide programming. To reflect the benefits candidates are searching for more frequently on Built In, the program also weighs criteria like remote and flexible work opportunities, programs for DEI and other people-first cultural offerings.

2021 was a year of significant growth for Axle with a Series A raise and additional product offerings along with an increase in staffing. In 2022, Axle anticipates another growth year and is currently hiring across all departments. Current job openings include positions in Engineering, Operations, Marketing and Sales.

“It is my honor to extend congratulations to the 2022 Best Places to Work winners,” says Sheridan Orr, Chief Marketing Officer, Built In. “This year saw a record number of entrants — and the past two years fundamentally changed what tech professionals want from work. These honorees have risen to the challenge, evolving to deliver employee experiences that provide the meaning and purpose today’s tech professionals seek.”
